I am originally from Niamey, Niger, and I have always maximized opportunities through dedication and perseverance. Since my middle school years, I have earned prestigious scholarships, starting with enrollment in one of my country's top schools, and later continuing my secondary education in Turkey, immersing myself in a rich international environment. Currently pursuing a degree in Aeronautical Engineering, I am deeply passionate about innovation and determined to make meaningful contributions to the aeronautical industry, leveraging my skills, experience, and diverse cultural background.
